Ever wondered how to get fresh ideas on your business problems?

Would you like to share your experience with others?

PLUS - Find out what is really happening in the economy directly from the Bank of England, with guest speaker David Buffham.

The South Tyneside Business Forum is bringing together like-minded businesses in the first step of the Forum's "business buddy" project. Businesses throughout the borough have told us that they need to know how to get where they need to be fast. We believe there is no better source of business information than that provided by another business person who has been there. We are trialling a program that will attempt to provide the participants or "buddies" the opportunity to share ideas, knowledge and experience in order to benefit each other.

To book:

Places are available on first come, first served basis. Email: stbf@necc.co.uk, or call Michael on 0191 424 6258, leaving your name, company name and number of places required.

A Message from our Sponsor:

Leeds Building Society is proud to be associated with South Tyneside Business Forum and to sponsor this event. As a contributor to the South Tyneside economy and as one of the UK's top ten building societies we know the importance of the local and national picture and the recent turbulence in the financial markets means that it is more important than ever for individuals to review and stay on top of their finances.

Leeds Building Society continues to demonstrate the benefits of independent mutuality and our financial results show just how successful this formula is, making us consistently one of the very top performing societies on a number of measures.

We look forward to this Bank of England event, meeting as many of you as possible and working together in South Tyneside to our mutual benefit.
